PRELUDE

*" 'Build me straight, O worthy Master!
Stanch and strong, a goodly vessel,
That shall laugh at all disaster,
And with wave and whirlwind wrestle'!*

*The merchant's word
Delighted the Master heard;
For his heart was in his work, and the heart
Giveth grace unto every Art.*

*A quiet smile played round his lips,
As eddies and dimples of the tide
Play round the bows of ships,
That steadily at anchor ride.*

*And with voice that was full of glee,
He answered, 'Erelong we will launch
A vessel as goodly, and strong, and stanch,
As ever weathered a wintry sea!' "*

DEDICATION

*With hearts full of joy and appreciation, we, the class of
'34, do respectfully dedicate
this annual to our Christian Parents who have endeavored with an untiring zeal to pilot
us on the sea of life.*

BOOK I

*"Covering many a rood of ground
Lay the timber piled around;
Timber of chestnut, and elm, and oak,
And scattered here and there with these,
The knarred and crooked cedar knees;
Brought from regions far away,
From Pascagoula's sunny bay,
And the banks of the roaring Roanoke!"*

BOOK II

*" 'Thus,' said he, 'will we build this ship!
Lay square blocks upon the slip,
And follow well this plan of mine.
Choose the timbers with greatest care;
Of all that is unsound beware
For only what is sound and strong
To this vessel shall belong.' "*

We Congratulate...

The Editor and Staff of THE SHENANDOAH on the results of their efforts in presenting to you this Year Book. Did you realize as you leafed through its pages the work, both mental and physical, spent in its making? Did you pause, if only for a moment, to try to solve the question, how was this book made? Did you know that it was all compiled first in the minds of the staff, a small piece at a time until it was completed? Did you know that we took these mental pieces of creative imagination and gave them to you in concrete form.

We trust our years of training in the Annual field has enabled us to be of some assistance to the staff and that we have given you a book of which you will be proud to claim as a true representative of your school. If this be true, then our work has been well done.
