Shenandoah

ELDER W. T. WEAVER

Wherever we may venture in our travel through this life, there are always some people who stand out in our minds, who seem to possess some of the characteristics which we ourselves have always admired and wished for. Elder W. T. Weaver, as well as being a teacher, has the ability to be a faithful friend and a helpful adviser.

To Elder Weaver, with great appreciation, we dedicate our Shenandoah this year,

The Annual Staff.

SHENANDOAH HALL

*"O Shenandoah, dear Shenandoah,
In thee do we delight to rest
And daily strive to do our best
For Shenandoah, Shenandoah."*

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The youth of today live in an age which calls for sober thinking and careful reflection. World conditions present a distracting picture. Uncertainty and distress are everywhere present.

The world needs a power that transforms the characters — a vision which puts true value upon life. If you want a training and an experience which will serve as a challenge to you to help a hopeless world, you will find it in the devotion of your life to a worthwhile cause. The world needs strong Christian young men and women of deep conviction, young people of faith and genuine courage.

It is a real privilege to live, study, work and associate with young people and teachers of like purposes, and like high ideals. We invite you to consider Shenandoah Valley Academy in choosing a school.
