The Gift of Time

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboreth?

I have seen the travail, which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised in it.

He hath made everything beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, so that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

— Ecclesiastes 3:1-11

A Time for Us

SVA possesses a certain magic that can not help but draw people to it. Maybe it's in the magnificent architecture of the buildings. Maybe it's in the splendor of the sprawling campus. Or perhaps, it's the extras like the football field, track, or the pool. But in reality, I think it's the people that make SVA the special place that it is. The smile of a senior to an uncertain freshman, the effort a teacher puts into making sure everyone understands, or the laughter of the students enjoying one another. That is what turns a bunch of buildings and trees and teachers into a family at their home away from home. But most of all is the one thing that ties and binds us all together; Jesus Christ.

The beauty of God and His love
Is evident whenever you catch
A glimpse of this blessed campus
And the touched souls of those who Stroll its pathways to higher learning and blissful rest

The beauty of nature and the love of God
Combine to bring about the Joys and Happiness
We live through every day.
Through this campus, God's love
Teaches us lessons of love, reality, hope, Understanding, kindness, and responsibility.

In the hallways of the buildings of knowledge
Life is lived, learned and enjoyed
Friendships strengthened, and love blooming
Between the instructions of our elders
God is everywhere and in everything here Taught with every subject and experienced
By everyone.

This yearbook is dedicated to . . .

Nicholas McLoughlin

Nicholas Alexander McLoughlin, thank you for always being there for us. We would like to dedicate this yearbook to you for all the hard work you have done to help this school. Thank you for being there for us and being a friend to anyone that needed one. As a task force worker, you have encouraged us to do our best in all that we do. You've been there for everyone, whether substituting for a teacher, taking us to appointments, or just listening to our problems. In all that we've been through, your never-ending humor and willingness to help has guided us through our troubles. For that, the entire school would like to thank Nicholas McLoughlin for his devotion to this school.

Rachael Spinaze

This yearbook is dedicated to Rachael Spinaze for all the hard work she has put into both Hadley Hall and Price Hall. No matter how hard or terrible the job was, Rachael always did it without a complaint. She always met the requirements of a good natured, positive attitude. She always loves to laugh and you'll always see her smiling. It always seemed that when anyone was at the lowest point in the day, you were there with a big smile and asking how our day had been, and no matter how bad it had been, you always listened and had some little thing to say to make the rest of the day a pleasant one. Even though you will not be here next year, everyone whose life you have touched will remember you or one of your little sayings each day of your absence. We will all miss you, Rachael, and wish you could stay another year, but with regret, I write this to say thank you for the dedication you have given to us for just this year. We all at SVA wish you good luck in the years to come.

Yearbook Staff
— Kristi McIlveen

Some day the fleeting flock of years you spent in school will be remembered like a dream of pleasant scenes you wish would never end. The petty problems which today may seem to rob the hours of happiness you seek, will in the after-years come to your mind, as incidents where of you love to speak: perhaps the only comfort you can find.

Then store those cool moments in your heart, and wind each one upon the golden spool of memory: for after you depart and live a little while away from school, you will look back and sometimes even yearn, if only for a moment, to return.
— Nicholas Lloyd Ingraham

Student Life

SVA students always enjoy each other's company

Price Hall

Jamie B. relaxing

Price Hall is not the terrible place it is said to be. Its a place for young men to experience the harsh realities of life. With the fire alarms (false) and the occasional midnight raids. Lets not forget all the times you've burned your hands on a heated door knob, but this doesn't happen all the time. There are a few good things in between the bad. Like Monday night football games, hanging around with your friends, and the treats from Mrs. Sigler.

Over the year the average male in the dorm, makes friends (roommate hopefully included), gains experience in letting his wild side free, and learns to unwind. Though we are all still a little angry for the loss of our soda machine to the greedy girls in the annex, but we are otherwise content. As you can see life in the dorm is like a refiner, it prepares us for the trials of life and helps us to enjoy its happiness.

Jason King

Hadley Hall

Kelly W. smiles for the camera

When you cross the Threshold of Hadley Hall on your first day at SVA, many things run through your mind. I hope my RA is nice to me, what uh . . . cute little bathrooms, why are there bars on the stairwell windows? I'm supposed to fit all my clothes in that!

But as the weeks pass you discover your RA is great and the bathrooms have the wonderful ability to let you step right out of the shower and be at the toilet. The bars are to keep out guys attempting to escape Price Hall, and most of your clothes will spend the year on the floor or in your friends rooms.

In all, Hadley Hall is your place to unwind, get a little crazy and possibly attempt homework. The RA's and Deans do their best to make you feel at home and pretty soon that is what Hadley Hall becomes, your home away from home.

Julia Blair

Annex

Cameron S. and Dena N. having fun.

Larua B. screaming her head off.

The Annex was founded because there were too many girls in the main dorm, but to the casual observer it might look like the place the deans stuck all the "gifted" girls. Why, only girls with great mental stability could endure the guys playing football above them as they study for a test. Only resilient girls could accept that the heaters work in the summer and go dead in the winter. Only girls of conquest could handle the eternal search for Toilet Paper.

Of course there are the moments where we let down our guard and have water fights, tooth brush parties, funky fashion shows, and all night hyper fests. But most of all only girls of great sensitivity would adapt to the closeness, the monthly group therapy, and special bonds made in the place we call home, the Annex.

Julia Blair

mmm, mmm good!

What are we doing here?

Look at those guys run!

AAUUUGGHH!

And, what are you looking at?!

Ooh! Look at those muscular bodies!

Fall Picnic

It started out as a peaceful and uneventful morning. But as the kids slept and nature revelled in stillness, great tactics were being conspired. Not since Vietnam had anyone seen the determination that was about to be revealed at what became known as The Fall Picnic. After training exercises in the gym all were assembled at the first battle site for the exhausting Track and Field events. Brave souls such as Danny Prouty, Trisha Shumacher, Julie Copiz and many others risked their lives for the sake of their teammates. Afterwards it was on to the dreaded group events where teammates worked together in an attempt at victory. One of the most remembered and most grueling incidents was the Obstacle Course. Luckily many survived, including Cameron Stephensen, Trevor Schlisner, Amber Adams, and April Anderson. Next was the event that proved strength was needed on land and sea. Erin Rawson, Leslie Stan, Israel Moyano, and Kelly Diller braved the waters and emerged unscathed and in some cases victorious. There were all out wars in the areas of volleyball and softball, where all participants put out their best efforts. In the end a peace treaty was drawn up where the Seniors declared supremacy over everyone, the Juniors declared rulership over the underclassmen, and the sophomores declared ownership of the brave yet defeated freshmen.

Barn

On Wednesday, October 26, a strange procession could be seen headed for the SVA barn. It was time for the annual barn party and we were all dressed for the occasion. Aside from the creative costumes and great food, there were many fun activities to enjoy. You could heave a cream pie at a "beloved" teacher, send a singing telegram to a secret love, or get hopelessly lost in the "immense maze."

The evening ended with a bonfire and hayrides. Once again, the Barn Party was a success.

Party

Don't we look cute together?

The History Trip group enjoys their time away from SVA.

History Trip

On October 16, an anxious group set forth on a journey to discover how each other acted on a bus, if they could maybe handle Mr. Williams 24 hours a day for a week, and maybe a little history. Their first stop was Valley Forge where they soon learned that Washington troops had actually experienced worse conditions than life at Price Hall. Next they were on to Philadelphia to learn about truth, justice and the liberty bell. Afterwards it was on to New York and a visit with Lady Liberty. Next they went to Newport R.I. and stared open-mouthed at the magnificent Breakers mansions commenting "my 1st house will be a lot like this." A journey to Plymouth Mass. followed with a look at Plymouth Rock and Plymouth Plantation. Their next grand appearance was Boston and then a stop in Quebec, Canada. They're back to the "Big Apple" to visit Saratoga and Low Hampton to see the 150th celebration of the disappointment. After they had about enough History as they could stand it was time to return back to the present and to SVA.

Australia

Much to our delight, Brandon and I were chosen to spend a week touring Sydney and Avondale. We also were able to spend time with Adrian Stiles who had been our first taskforce worker at SVA from Australia. We camped out in the wild with koalas and kangaroos. Not too many classes were attended but we gained so much more by just spending time with the students. We made friends that will never be forgotten. Being able to go was a dream come true. We both intend to go back some day and see more of the country. Hopefully, it won't be too long until then.

Denmark

On September 18, 1994, Trevor and I flew over the Atlantic to Copenhagen, Denmark. We then took a train to Vejle-fjord. The country-side was stunning with its green grass, rolling farmland, and wind-mills.

The Danes we met were friendly and very interested in learning about the states and our way of life. The blue eyed, blond haired girls took a special interest in Trevor and his unique personality.

We visited many castles, museums, and many other historical places. The most exciting part of our trip was when we got to see the Queen of Denmark when we visited Prague.

By going on exchange, I learned to appreciate other cultures and at the same time, take pride in being an American. Trevor and I made friendships that will last a lifetime.

Finland

Nervousness, anxiety, and jet lag were just a few of the emotions that Jeff and I experienced as our plane landed in Finland. Those feelings soon vanished as we felt the true warmth and friendliness of our new school.

Our trip was filled with plenty of sight-seeing and touring. Our four weeks flew by with a one day trip to Estonia, a five day trip to Denmark, and a ride on an overnight cruise ship to Sweden. The days were just too short to see everything.

Not only did we get the honor to see so many historical places, but we got the opportunity to actually see how the Finnish people live. We got to experience the famous Sauna's, hockey games, Finnish music, cheese and bread, and plenty of PIZZARIA.

You really learn how another culture lives and acts. The people we met were wonderful and the friends and memories we made during our stay will last us a lifetime.

Germany

Charlie and I embarked on September 18 for the experience of a lifetime. Chosen as exchange students to Germany, we were on our way to Marienhohe. Our first experience was the autobahn, the speedway so jammed that no speed limits are necessary. It took us to Seminar Marienhohe, our sister school, which is nestled in the mountains of south western Germany. We had the opportunity to see Heidelberg, Wartburg, and Berlin.

Berlin was the high point of our trip. We saw checkpoint Charlie and a chunk of the fallen wall. We walked through the Brandenburger Tor, the gate to East Berlin.

Everyone made us feel welcome at Marienhohe and the friends made are friends forever. We learned a lot about ourselves and began friendships for a lifetime filled with memories to last forever.

Norway

Norway — The Land of the Midnight Sun
Our host family, Eva and Edwin Torkelson, had a full itinerary when we arrived. We were able to see many sights which included Lillehammer — the sight of last year's Olympics. While we were there, Tyrifjord Videregaende Skole had a fall break and it was then that the Torkelson's took us for a tour to Trendheim and the western fjords. Caleb and I learned many things on this trip. One, is that Norway is one of the most beautiful places we've seen. Also, that in Norway, when all else fails, they will always have bread and cheese.

Our trip to Norway was wonderful and I think we can both agree that this will be remembered as one of the best experiences of our lives.

Spain

Ricky Thompson and I were fortunate enough to participate in the Foreign Exchange Program to Spain. The first day that I arrived in the country, I knew my month there would be far too short.

The experiences we shared were endless, including trips to Valencia, Barcelona, Laragoza, castles, parks, mountains, monasteries, and of course the Mediterranean Sea. We had the chance to see Spanish Festivals, hear authentic music, try new kinds of foods, learn a beautiful language, and even be chased through the streets by a raging bull in Ricky's case.

The people of Spain were so friendly, making us feel completely at ease and comfortable in our new surroundings. They always seemed to have smiles on their faces, and a true love for God that shone through their actions from day to day.

The time we spent in Spain can never be replaced. It was very easy to fall in love with the warm weather, beautiful landscapes, flowing language, and most of all, the people. Leaving the four memorable weeks of laughs, tears, joys, and smiles was very hard to do, but we have the hope that one day, we will all meet again in heaven for eternity.

Sweden

Sweden — a name that came to mean so much in such a short time. It is a country full of breathtaking landscape, enriched culture, and beautiful and loving people. Jeremy and myself felt very lucky to be “adopted” by our sister school at Ekebyholm, which fortunately for us, was strategically located only an hour from the capital. The moment we arrived in Stockholm for the first time, both of us literally fell in love with the city. We toured the major sites and also spent a lot of our time shopping at the famous old town which holds a glimpse of old Europe. We were also fortunate to visit Finland, Estonia, and Denmark and as a result, spent two of our four weeks abroad with Jeff Lemon and Shelley Cothorn. The experience was truly indescribable through words and we are both confident that the friends we made there and the enlightenment we gained will remain with us through our lives.

Austria

Austria — the land of the “Sound of Music.”

We were constantly amazed at the diverse scenes of this tiny country. The Seminar/Schloss Bogenhofen is a small and beautiful combination of old architecture with new and also with young people with the older theology students. The people’s respect for each other and the things that they had will forever impress us. Their constant devotion to becoming closer to God was so uplifting, that we found ourselves drawn to Christ through their love. The friendships we made at Bogerhofen will last forever.

Because we were in the center of Europe, we were able to do quite a bit of traveling. We biked to nearby towns almost everyday, along some routes. The school took us to Salsburg and Halstead — both are located in the Alps. We also took a fleeting tour of northern Italy by train — exploring Verona, Florence, and Venace on foot and staying in youth hotels. The last week of our stay, the German class we were in went on a five-day field trip to Viena, where we were able to experience much of the Viennese culture.

A Time For Laughter

Senior Address

The Seniors of 1995 had a challenge. Coming in as new students confronting dorm life, new friends, confusing schedules, endless lines in the cafeteria that had an array of faces not knowing who really to sit with, we still overcame. From constantly being thought of as last, we had to find our places in this school. Now after four years, when we feel we are well-grounded and comfortable, it's time to move on again. For some, to larger settings; Ivy League or top universities or for others, smaller colleges or trade schools. One thing that can be said about our class is even though we are a diverse group of students, we all share one thing in common to carry with us as we leave this year which is the love of Christ.

This school has taught us how to love one another if anything else. Because of this love, we have strived to reach out to the other classes. Therefore, it can be said after we are long gone, "That was one class who changed what being a senior is all about!" Hopefully, we have impacted other classes from our example in the future to love one another even in Christ's sake who has loved you!

I don't believe that we could find a more beautiful place to put this school than here in the Shenandoah Valley. Each day that we wake-up and begin our day's activities, we view the surrounding mountains of the Allegheny, Blue Ridge, and Massanutten. Through our own property flows the tree lined Shenandoah River. The spreading campus with beautiful lawns, trees, and flower beds is framed in with the fertile farm fields that guard our boundaries. What a wonderful place to live, study, work, play, make lasting friendships, and most of all, worship our Creator, God.

When you slowly turn these pages of pictures, memories of the band trip to Germany and Denmark, study exchange experiences to far away lands, sports contests of Varsity basketball and volleyball, banquets, quiet times with friends, early morning breakfasts in the cafeteria and so much more will flood your thoughts. Boarding school is a total experience, hard to explain to those that have not shared it with you. To those that you have attended with, they will be lifetime friends. My prayer is that your closest friend and lifetime companion will be Jesus. He was certainly evident on this campus in so many wonderful ways. In our outreach with feeding the homeless, cleaning for shut-ins, church building in Romania, collecting canned goods and making food baskets, sharing Christmas with underprivileged children, and in all the other wonderful sharing experiences, I saw a reflection of Him on your faces. The most exciting thing about these memories of SVA is the fact that they will last for all eternity.

To the seniors, my prayers will be with you as you continue on your journey through this life. You are always welcome back home at any time. We will not forget you and the contribution you made while you were here to make this the great school that it is.

I wonder if this might not be a little part of heaven, snuggled against the river and guarded by those majestic Blue Ridge Mountains.

S.A. Christmas Party

Tara P. and Josh J. pose for a family picture.

The happy family, Ivan K. and Jenny H.

'Twas the night before the SA Christmas party and all through the dorms not a creature was stirring, except those looking for wrapping paper. The next morning brought December 12 and the long awaited event. Expectant parents waited in the lobby of the Administration Building to receive their child. Upon receiving them, we went to the cafeteria for a Bob Ockenga Christmas special. After we had consumed as many rice krispies as humanly possible, it was onto the chapel where we all had nostalgic experience with "The Grinch That Stole Christmas". And then came the best thing of all, Santa with his presents and microphone? An unwrapping frenzy occurred while some kids had to take their presents back from their parents who were playing with them. It was a great evening full of laughter, joy, and the spirit of Christmas.

Open-House Banquet

It was Nov. 13 and the girls were preparing themselves for an adventure into the uncharted area of the guys dorm. As they, along with their dates, walked through the guys dorm they found themselves visiting different decades as they entered each hall. Next was a quick photo shoot with Bert Williams and then it was off to the cafeteria for some Oriental cuisine. After as many eggrolls as one could muster everyone went to the ad. building to be dazzled by the amazing speaking talents of Yul Brenner in the King and I. It was a lovely evening filled with friends, food, good conversation et cetera . . . et cetera . . . et cetera.

Jennifer L. and Joy R. loved spending time in the Oriental Garden together.

Merrie R. had the pleasure to escort both Seth B. and Danny P. to the banquet.

Valentine's Banquet

On Feb. 14 the girls of SVA headed for the guys dorm to pick up their anxious dates. It was the night of the 1955 Valentine's Banquet and excitement was in the air. The first stop was the gym which had been transformed into an enchanted castle. After a "quick" trip through the picture line it was time to eat. After we had basked in the satisfaction of Faculty serving us we heard impressive displays of musical talent from Sylvia, Samala, Abby, Joy, Jason, Kelly, Peter, Brenda, Sonya, and a small tribute to the Siglers. Then it was time to sit down and enjoy the 3 Musketeers. At the end of the evening, everyone went to sleep convinced this was a special Valentine's Day.

 time has passed so quickly. The first moment we saw your tiny face and held you in our arms we realized the Lord had blessed us with a precious gift.

While you were learning and growing we enjoyed sharing in all of your creative activities. We are proud of you and thankful you are a very special son and brother.

As you reach for your goals and follow your dreams, may you always allow the Lord to be your closest guide and friend.
 We pray that you will always remain in awe

Washington was his kind of town

And if you come to Columbia Union College, it'll be your kind of town too. As the Adventist college near the nation's capital, we have many unique advantages that only a capital city can offer.

In addition to learning in an academically challenging program, CUC students work at NASA, the IRS, the Peace Corps, the Central Intelligence Agency, the National Institutes of Health, the World Headquarters of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and the White House.

In the Washington area CUC students have unlimited opportunities to follow our motto, Gateway to Service. Our students put their Christianity into action when they minister through drama, operate a mobile soup kitchen, and tutor elementary school children. CUC students also enjoy the variety of 65 Adventist churches in the area.

CUC's campus—our students' home base—is located in Takoma Park, Maryland, a quiet suburb just a 20-minute Metro ride from Washington. In what is one of the world's greatest cultural centers, CUC students can see free Shakespeare or hear the National Symphony Orchestra, and watch history being made when they witness presidential inaugurations or see the Supreme Court in action.

And there's lots to do right on campus, too, like cheering for the Pioneers sports teams, picnicking on the Commons, or practicing with the New England Youth Ensemble for a concert at Carnegie Hall.

At CUC you'll have the unlimited resources of a city that has shaped quite a few great leaders. Who knows? You could be the next one.

Honest.

Dear Heidi,

My little sister is "Graduating!" It seems like only yesterday that you were heading off to first grade. (boy do I feel old.)

I've tried giving you (great) advice in the past and I'm not sure how much it helped, but I would like to think I'm one of the reasons you turned out so good. Before I start coming to you for advice I have one last thing to say. Always be happy and enjoy what ever you chose to do in life. I know I give you a pretty hard time, but as wierd as it may sound its the way I show how much I love and care for you.

I wish the best for you in life. And I'll always be watching out for you.
I Love You, Your brother,
Christopher Gene Hodges

Dear Heidi,

It seems like only yesterday that you, a beautiful baby girl, made our family complete. Today you're our lovely daughter on the verge of womanhood.

You've always shared your sunny disposition and heart-warming smile with everyone. At times your eyes crinkle up with mischief.

Adversity in your life has made you a stronger, more compassionate person. "God never gives us more than we can handle." You have numerous friends and always stand by them.

You were determined to attend Shenandoah Academy and God opened the door, making your dream a reality.

You will soon be graduating and moving on to the next stage of your life. We know that, with God's help, anything you choose to do is possible.

We want you to know how much we love you and that we will always be there for you. May your future be bright and happy!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Heidi,

It is extremely hard to believe that my little sister is graduating already. It seems like yesterday I was teaching you how to give me a massage. Which you have done faithfully no matter how mean I was to you. I am very proud to have you as my sister. I have always tried to be there when you needed me, and always will. The only bad part about you graduating is that, that means I'm old, but I'll still whip anyone who messes with you. Well in closing I'll say the world is yours now, you can do anything if you desire it bad enough. I Love You.

Dear Jeremy,

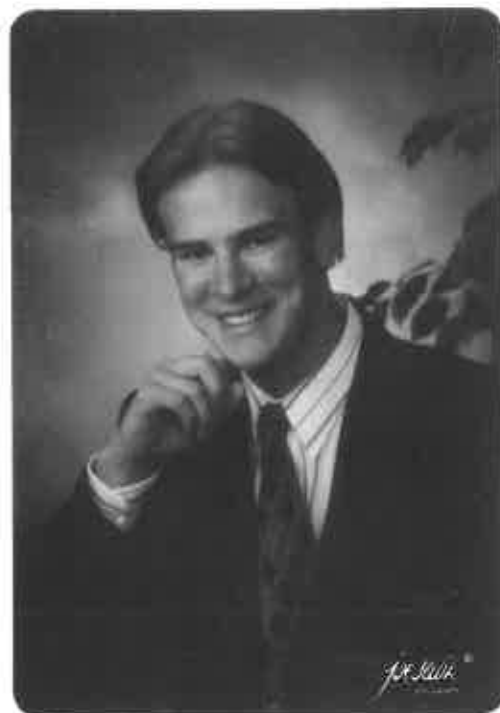

As you embark on the next leg of your journey through this life, your Mother and I wanted you to be sure about a few things.

- First - Be sure that we love you.
- Second - Be sure we are proud of you.
- Third - Be sure of yourself (and above all, be true to yourself).
- Fourth - Be sure that you serve a God who loves you.

Many things in life are not certain, but of those things listed above you can be certain.

IF ONLY
 Dreams and aspirations
 Joy, a peaceful heart,
 Love and lasting friendships
 Would be the largest part,
 Of everything in store for you,
 In all that comes your way,
 If only we as parents
 Could guarantee each day!

LOVE,
 Mom and Dad

Dear Jeff,

We are proud of you and will always love and support you. Congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Love,
 Mom & Dad

DON'T QUIT

When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
 When the road you're trudging seems all up hill,
 When the funds are low and the debts are high,
 And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
 When care is pressing you down a bit,
 Rest, if you must, but don't you quit;
 Life is difficult with its twists and turns,
 As everyone of us sometimes learns,
 And many a failure turns about,
 When he might have won had he stuck it out;
 Don't give up though the pace seems slow
 You may succeed with another blow;
 Success is failure turned inside out,
 The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
 And you can never tell how close you are,
 It may be near when it seems so far;
 So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
 It's when things seem worst that you

MUST NOT QUIT

MOTHER

NICOLE KRISTI GLEASON

We prayed for the Lord to send you into our lives and then we prayed for your protection and nurturing all through your childhood. We asked the Lord for a good academy for you. And we have rejoiced to see how He has answered all our prayers.

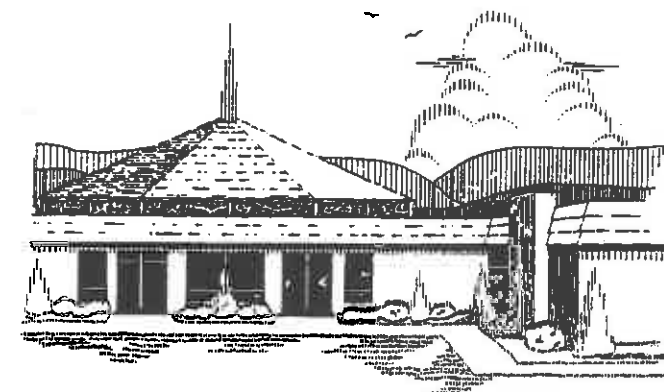

Four years ago we brought a little girl, eager to experience life, to SVA. These four years have definitely been challenging, fun, thrilling and sometimes very difficult. You've experienced things that many only dream of. And through these experiences you've grown, matured, and become a stronger person. Nicole - we want you to know how very proud we are of the person you've become and all you've accomplished, and how very much we love you.

We've watched your friendships grow, and we want to thank you for sharing your friends with us. They've become very special to us. We hope you continue to share those special people and times, for they add even more to our lives.

Now once again we watch you, eager to face new challenges, new friends, new gifts and talents to develop. We send you on your way with all our love, constant prayer and all our support. May these next four years bring you even closer to the Lord as He guides you to reach your full potential.

Love, Mom and Dad
